

Sports World & Sports Medicine

Time for elemental.

Your goals are our goals.

Whether to enhance performance, for a healthy body, on your way to a dream figure or simply for the pure joy of it: There are a thousand reasons and goals for making exercise a bigger part of your life.

Our team is excited to welcome you to Sports World, the fitness center of Alpentherme Gastein, and to the Sports Medicine department of the Health Center, offering professional and personal care. Exercise-hungry guests are categorized according to ability level and then, with the help of modern testing approaches and a wide variety of training methods, given the optimal environment in which to achieve their goals.

Sports Medicine at the Health Center.

Whether you are just beginning to discover an active lifestyle for yourself or you are already an ambitious amateur athlete: Our team of sports scientists will put your training on a firm foundation and support you in achieving your goals. To that end, we use state-of-the-art testing methods along with the latest scientific approaches to training and elite sports. The close cooperation of the team with the doctors and therapists of the Health Center gives you the assurance that you will be following a healthy path to better performance.

Cryotherapy at -110 degrees Celsius

Top-flight athletes and sport figures have long been enthusiastic advocates for whole-body cryotherapy. Shorter regeneration periods and increased performance are just two of the benefits.
